5. Designated Contact

Principal Funds mails a written notice to the last known address of account owners to inform them that, either due to no activity in the account or an invalid address, the assets in the account may be delivered to the state in which the account owner resides. This notice is based on each state's unclaimed property rules.

As an account owner, you may designate an individual as a contact, in the event your account is considered unclaimed property, either due to an invalid address or inactivity in your Principal Funds' account. This designated contact would receive notice by mail, in an attempt to notify you of the possibility of assets being delivered to the state. An account owner is not required to designate a contact and the contact does not have any rights to the account.

9. Designation of Beneficiary(ies)

If neither primary nor contingent status is indicated, the individual(s) or entity(ies) will be deemed my primary beneficiary(ies). If more than one primary/contingent beneficiary is designated and no distribution percentages are indicated, the beneficiaries will be deemed to own equal share percentages in the SEP-IRA.

If any primary or contingent beneficiary predeceases me, his or her interest and the interest of his or her heir(s) shall terminate completely, and the percentage share of any remaining beneficiary(ies) shall be increased on a pro rata basis, unless I have indicated otherwise by checking the "per stirpes" box. A per stirpes beneficiary designation means that the interest of any primary and/or contingent beneficiary who predeceases me will go to his or her heir(s) in equal shares, unless otherwise specified. If no primary beneficiary(ies) survives me, the contingent beneficiary(ies) shall acquire the designated shares of my SEP-IRA. If no beneficiary(ies) survives me, my beneficiary shall be my estate, or if none, the individual(s) who would have inherited my estate had one existed.

Check here for per stirpes beneficiary designation (this designation will apply to all primary and contingent beneficiaries). By selecting this option you are negating the standard per capita beneficiary designation. Additional information may be required from the executor or personal representative of the estate for final distributions.

To name additional beneficiaries, you may complete and attach a new copy of this page.

Choosing beneficiaries and methods of distribution can be very complex and can have significant impacts on various tax situations. We strongly recommend working with a qualified legal or tax advisor when making your selections.

- I am not married – I understand that if I become married in the future, I must complete a new Beneficiary Designation form.
- I am married – I understand that if I choose to designate a primary beneficiary other than my spouse, my spouse must complete the Spousal Consent section below.

Special laws apply to the designation of an IRA beneficiary by a married person residing in a "community property" or "marital property" state. If you are married, reside in one of these states, and have not designated your spouse as your primary beneficiary, your spouse must sign the Spousal Consent stating that you may name someone other than your spouse as beneficiary. The Spousal Consent must be medallion signature guaranteed.

Spousal Consent

I am the spouse of the account owner named in Section 2. I acknowledge I have received a fair and reasonable disclosure of my spouse's property and financial obligations. Due to the important tax consequences of giving up my interest in this IRA account, I have been advised to see a tax advisor. I hereby consent to the beneficiary designation(s) indicated in Section 9. I assume full responsibility for any adverse consequences that may result. No tax or legal advice was given to me by the Custodian, Principal Shareholder Services, Inc., or its Agents.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT.

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. This means that when you open an account, we will ask for your name, legal street address, date of birth, Social Security Number, and/or information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents. If we are unable to verify your customer information, we may close your account or take such other steps as we deem appropriate. Principal Funds does not accept accounts that are for the benefit of a business/organization that is illegal under Federal and/or State law (such as a marijuana clinic), or a person who owns or receives income from such an entity or whose source of funds is illegal.
