Morningstar ratings may vary between share classes, are based on historical risk-adjusted total returns, and are subject to change.

Real estate may offer capital appreciation over its original value, income through interest or dividends, and a means of offsetting inflation.

The Principal Real Estate Securities Fund offers:

Opportunity for attractive returns.

Real estate investment trusts (REITs) offer the opportunity to invest in publicly traded U.S. real estate companies that can raise money for expansion easier than private companies, and:

- Have historically low correlation to other asset classes for increased portfolio diversification.¹
- Historically perform well for years after the economy emerges from recession.²
- Offer a potential inflation hedge due to increasing rents and real estate values, and because dividends historically increase faster than the inflation rate.³

An immense range of real estate properties.

Gain access to real estate properties, their related operations, and REITs that provide:

- Access to high quality companies purchased at attractive prices.
- A broadly diversified real estate portfolio including apartments, hotels, malls, office buildings, hospitals, and more.
- Added diversification through numerous locations and varied sizes of companies.

A stable, experienced investment manager.

With six decades of experience, Principal Real Estate Investors believes in long-term, risk-managed portfolio construction.⁴ We:

- Offer a stable and proven leadership team that has historically generated outperformance across market cycles.
- Incorporate valuable insights from Principal Global Investors—coupled with our proprietary model—providing a meaningful advantage in stock selection.
- Construct highly active portfolios, which are differentiated from the index, helping to achieve excess return consistency.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Asset allocation and diversification do not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

¹ Morningstar. For 5 years ending December 31, 2017.

² Historical data from FTSE NAREIT ALL REITs TR Index and Bureau of Labor Statistics.

³ Factset. REIT dividend yields are measured by the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Index, which consists of companies that own and operate income-producing real estate that have 75% or more of their invested assets in the equity or mortgage debt of commercial properties.

Returns represent past performance and do not guarantee future results. Share price, principal value, and return will vary and you may have a gain or loss when shares are sold. Current performance may be lower or higher than quoted. For the most recent month-end performance, visit principalfunds.com. A maximum sales charge of 5.5% may apply for Class A shares. Performance reflects this maximum sales charge when a sales charge is indicated.

⁶ Performance assumes reinvestment of all dividends and capital gains. Only certain investors, such as retirement plan participants, can purchase class A shares without a sales charge; see the prospectus for details.

⁸ MSCI US REIT Index is a capitalization-weighted benchmark index of most actively traded Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), designed to measure real estate performance.

⁹ Index performance information reflects no deduction for fees, expenses, or taxes. Indices are unmanaged and individuals cannot invest directly in an index.

¹⁰ Morningstar percentile rankings are based on total returns and do not reflect the inclusion of sales charges. If sales charges were reflected, rankings could be lower.

¹¹ The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating," is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

Morningstar ratings do not reflect the inclusion of sales charges. If sales charges were reflected, ratings could be lower. ©2018 Morningstar, Inc. All rights reserved.
