

Fiduciary document catalog

Keeping track of your defined contribution retirement plan’s fiduciary documents is critical — but can be cumbersome. This list helps you understand which documents to store and retain. Simply review, check off and store your 2018 fiduciary documents together in one place. As you do, keep in mind:

- › Some of these documents are available through the employer website at principal.com. Others may be provided by your financial professional or third party administrator (TPA) (if you work with one).
- › ERISA requires that you store fiduciary documents for at least six years. For the 2018 calendar year, save documents until at least 2024. Select documents may need to be retained longer.
- › This list does not include every document applicable to every plan type or required by law so make sure you review with your legal counsel, financial professional and TPA (if applicable).
